Rev. Economos John Johns, Commissioner
Devoted Clergy, Youth Advisors and Parents
Beloved Youth of the Delaware Valley Region of the Greek Orthodox Metropolis of New Jersey

Beloved Children, Parents and Advisors,

“As each has received a gift, employ it for one another, as good stewards of God's varied grace”
-1 Peter 4:10

I happily welcome all of you with joy in our Lord as you have gathered at the Holy Trinity Greek Orthodox Cathedral in Wilmington, Delaware, for the annual Greek Orthodox Metropolis of New Jersey Delaware Valley GOYA Sights and Sounds festival.

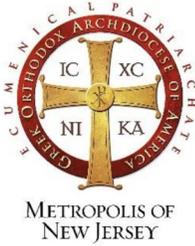

The Sights and Sounds festival is a blessing for our Metropolis. It gives our youth an opportunity to express themselves through their artistic talents. Each talent and skill we possess is a gift from God; by practicing and improving them in a God-pleasing way, we glorify Him who bestowed them on us. We become as St. Paul says, a “good steward” of God’s grace. Beyond the cultivation of individual talents, the Sights and Sounds Festival is a source of fellowship for our young people with other young Orthodox Christians, which they cultivate through the countless rehearsals and in the competition itself. In this way, the festival provides an opportunity for them to grow together in Christ, something that has become rare in our world today.

May we all take a moment to enjoy and celebrate the many talents of our GOYANs during this year’s Sights and Sounds festival. I pray that each participant takes an opportunity today to thank God for the talents and gifts He has granted them and for being able to share them with their friends and family. I also want to thank all the parents, volunteers, advisors and the hosting community of the Holy Trinity Cathedral along with the V. Rev. Archimandrite Christoforos Oikonomidis for the countless hours they dedicated to providing our youth with this opportunity.

Praying that our Lord bless you this Lenten season as we approach the Great and Holy Pascha, I remain

With Paternal Love and Blessings,

† APOSTOLOS
Metropolitan of New Jersey

Wilmington, March 21, 2026

Dear GOYANS, families, and friends,

With great joy, we welcome you to Holy Trinity Greek Orthodox Cathedral in Wilmington, Delaware, the proud host of the 2026 Sights and Sounds Youth Festival on Saturday, March 21, 2026. Now in its 41st year, this cherished festival offers our GOYANS the opportunity to present their God-given talents in the visual and performing arts within the life of our Orthodox Church.

We are especially grateful to His Eminence, Metropolitan Apostolos of New Jersey, for his blessing and inspiring presence, which continues to strengthen and encourage the youth throughout our Metropolis.

This event would not be possible without the dedication and tireless efforts of so many faithful servants. We extend our sincere thanks to the Delaware Valley Youth Commission and to Fr. John Johns for their leadership and support. We are deeply grateful to our Holy Trinity advisors, especially our chair, Mrs. Angie Karakasidis. Her commitment and organizational skills have guided this effort for many months. Alongside her, we recognize with appreciation our GOYA advisors, Agnoulia Marcantonis and Angela Thomas; our talented instructors, Evita Guajardo, Stavroula Karakasidis, and Alexandra Mavridis; as well as Eleni Karakasidis, Demetri Karakasidis, and Rich Thomas. We also offer heartfelt thanks to the many volunteers who have worked diligently behind the scenes and continue to serve with joy and generosity.

Above all, we offer our deepest gratitude and admiration to our young people. You are the reason we are here. Your love for the Orthodox Church, your dedication to our sacred traditions, and your willingness to share your gifts with others are truly inspiring. Your talents are immeasurable, and your presence fills our Church with hope and promise for a better and brighter tomorrow. We are incredibly proud of each and every one of you.

Once again, welcome to Holy Trinity Greek Orthodox Cathedral. May God bless all of you, and may He continue to guide and protect our youth through the prayers of our Spiritual Father, His Eminence Metropolitan Apostolos.

With love in Christ,

Feast of St. James the Confessor

On behalf of His Eminence Metropolitan Apostolos, our Spiritual Father, and the Delaware Valley Youth Commission, I offer my warmest greetings and blessings to all gathered for this year's Sights and Sounds Festival.

Each year, this youthful and energetic event reveals something deeper than talent alone, it reveals the heart of our Orthodox Church alive within her youth. What we witness today is not simply performance, but offering: the offering of time, discipline, courage, and faith. Our young people stand before us not only as artists, but as witnesses to the beauty of a life formed in Christ.

We extend sincere appreciation to our host parish, Holy Trinity Cathedral Wilmington, and the V. Rev. Christoforos Oikonomidis for opening their doors and embracing this ministry with such generosity. We are equally grateful to this year's Sights and Sounds Committee, the countless advisors, parents, volunteers, and organizers whose quiet sacrifices make this day possible. Your dedication ensures that our youth are not only supported, but truly seen, encouraged, and strengthened.

This festival reminds us that the Orthodox faith is not lived in abstraction, but expressed through voice, movement, creativity, and community. Here, friendships are deepened, confidence is formed, and seeds of lifelong faith are planted.

As we take in the beauty of today's presentations, may we be inspired not only by what our youth can do, but by who they are becoming. They are the present strength and future hope of our parishes, and it is our sacred responsibility to continue guiding them with love, clarity, and truth.

May the Lord bless this day, strengthen every participant, and continue to illuminate the path of our young people, that all they do may be for His glory.

With paternal love in Christ,
